WALTER CLEARY IS RULED OUT

STEWARDS DISQUALIFY HOT FAV-ORITE IN STEEPLECHASE.

Say He Fouled Vestment, 10 to 1, Who Gets First Money-Oiseau's Holly Handicap-Africander Badly Beaten -Lady Amelia Wins With 140 Pounds.

The disqualification of Walter Cleary, a hot favorite in the steeplechase, at Gravesend yesterday caused intense dissatisfaction nong a majority of the spectators, who failed to see any ground for such a ruling. decision of the stewards was reached only after the testimony of two patrol judges ad been heard, their story being to the effect that at the first flag after the last jump on the back stretch Walter Cleary, ridden by Vestment, Veitch up, causing the latter to pull up. Veitch went before the stewards immediately after the race with a claim of foul. As Walter Cleary had won galloping by fifteen lengths, and Vestment. a 10 to 1 shot, had struggled home completely fagged out in the place, the crowd could not understand what the powwow in the stewards' stand was all about, and when the race was finally handed to Vestment there was an ngry howl and growl.

Vestment made the running for nearly a mile and a half, with Walter Cleary close behind her, ready to take the lead at any moment. Walter Cleary was undoubtedly the best in the race, and he carried thousands of dollars, being backed down from 7 to 5 to 4 to 5. With first money awarded to Vestment, second money went to Judge Phillips, 11 to 5, with Patagonian, a 100 to 1 shot, third. Oiseau, one of the best two-year-old colts in training, demonstrated his worth when he shouldered 126 pounds in the Holly Handicap. for two-year-olds, at about six furlongs, and ran off with the prize with scarcely an effort. He simply stood the rest of the big field upside down with his speed and came home breezing with three lengths to spare in 1:10 3-5.

S. S. Brown's Broadcloth, 15 to 1, who was in receipt of twelve pounds from the winner.

lasted long enough to be second, a head in front of L. V. Bell's Glorifier, backed down The principal points about the handicap, at a mile and a half, may be embodied in the statement that Africander, odds on favorite, ran a very bad race, being unable to finish in the money, while Shorthose, with the lib-eral odds of 7 to 1, displayed unexpected improvement and won cleverly by a length and a half in 2:35. Fred Gebhard's Pulsus, 4 to 1, who led until well into the stretch, finished second, two lengths before Stonewall, a 60 to 1 shot. Africander was a trailer all the way, and when O'Neill called on him to go up to the leaders the Star Ruby colt was sulky and sluggish apparently, showing nothing of the dash of previous performances. His defeat could not be accounted for by those who control him. Lady Amelia picked up 140 pounds in the handicap for all ages, at about six furlongs, and won. It was a remarkable feat, demonstrating the fact that the little Ben Brush ally is a phenomenal three-year-old. The owever, believed that the limit as to weight had been reached and that Lady Amelia would be unable to carry it, so they put up 3 to 1, only to have the big players hammer the odds down to 11 to 5. Ascension, the two-year-old Handzarra and Collector Jessup attracted the rest of the smart specu-

Redfern took Lady Amelia to the front with a rush. Letola, 15 to 1, went after her, but quickly gave way to Handzarra. But Lady Amelia never faltered, and when Letola came strong in the stretch, she maintained her leadership to the end, ridden out. Letola inished a length behind her, beating Collector Jessup by a half length. The latter beat Ascension a head. The time was 1:10 3-5. Monacodor, a 40 to 1 shot, won the fifth race, for two-year-olds, at about six furlongs, by a nose. He dropped from the clouds and got the decision from Trapper, 15 to 1, who turn was a head in front of Juvenaga 16 to 5, with Lincroft, the favorite, four lengths away. Many spectators at an angle thought that Trapper had won by a good head. The that Trapper had won by a good head. The time was 1:11.

Frank Farrell's Champlain, 11 to 5 favorite in the last race, at a mile and a sixteenth, got away poorly and after making up the lost ground in the run up the back stretch had nothing left when the crisis arrived. Symour, 3 to 1, who was off running, on the other hand, was never caught and won easily by three lengths from Gravina, 3 to 1, who was half a length before T. D. Sullivan's Midshipman, 29 to 1. Champlain was a length and a half back. The time was 1:49 1-5. Four favorites lost, The attendance was about 10,000.

TURFMEN NOW HAVE HIGH OPINION OF OISEAU.

Western Colt Must Take Up 182 Pounds in Prespect Handicap—Thomas Plunges on Lady Amelia—Weights for the Oriental—Big Money Lost.

Turfmen are beginning to regard Oiseau, the Western colt who came here expressly to start in the Futurity, as one of the best two-year-olds of the year. His owner, J. G. Greener, has made this claim all along. and still maintains that the son of Ornus can trim any youngster of his age, barring Tradition and Sysonby. Oiseau's performance in the Holly Handicap yesterday was particularly meritorious, as he covered the distance, "about six furlongs," with 126 pounds on his back, in 1:10 3-5, the same time made by the three-year-old Lady Amelia in the first race, with 140 pounds.

As an indication of the official handicapper's opinion of Oiseau, the colt has received 132 pounds in the Prospect Handicap, for two-year-olds, to be run at Gravesend next Saturday. In this race Artful, the Futurity will surely go to the post, and if he wins he will confirm the general belief that he is the best two-year-old that has come out of the West in some time.

In the betting ring yesterday the layers quoted 2 to 1 against Oiseau, but, as the sharp bettors had not been fully convinced as to the Ornus colt's worth, they allowed him to go back to threes. His race proved the assertion of his owner and trainer that he was the best bet of the day.

L. V. Bell's Glorifler, after a series of four races, was pronounced "ready" for the race. The stable commission was a large one, and the odds tumbled rapidly from 8 to 1 to 7 to 2. Mindful of the fact that the Bell stable put through a coup the other day with Gren-ade, the hustlers in the ring got on to the Glorifier plunge early in the proceedings and followed it up to the last moment. Gannon did not secure a free run for the Hast-ings colt until well into the stretch, where the colt showed a phenomenal turn of speed and was gaining so rapidly in the last sixteenth that he might have made things decidedly interesting for Oiseau if the distance had been a little further. It was a source of much disappointment to Jimmy McCor-mick, Mr. Bell's astute trainer, who engineered the Grenade trick and believed that the one with Glorifler was just as certain of success.

E. R. Thomas did not bet on St. Bellane in this race, it was said, but he had a big bet on Lady Amelia in the opening event. The fact that the game daughter of Ben Brush had 140 pounds on her back did not deter Mr. Thomas from sending his money to the ring for as much as the layers would accept Threes soon dwindled to 11 to 5, which was liberal price against the filly in view of the remarkable race she ran.
As Mr. Vosburgh has been steadily increasing Lady Amelia's imposts, five pounds increase to a race, it is possible that in her next performance she will have to take up at least 142 pounds, and possibly 145. Yet it is believed she can win from such a field as she defeated yesterday, even with such a crushing burden. Redfern merely rode Lady Amelia out with his hands in yesterday's affair, as she was inclined to tire just a trifle in the final sixteenth. He made no move to draw his whip, however, for the filly had

There was a false price of 15 to 1 against Letola, who ran second to the Thomas filly. She got an unusually smart ride from Shaw, however, which enabled her to hang on to the place to the end.

The decision of the steeplechase stewards in disqualifying Walter Cleary caused endless discussion in the ring for the rest of the day. No favorite was more heavily backed. Ed Stutte, one of Joe Yeager's associates, for instance, went down the line betting $1,000 at a crack on the Candlemas gelding, and was followed everywhere. There was a tremendous rush to get aboard, even at odds on, every plunger on the track getting down his checks. An examination of some of the sheets found a list of Walter Cleary names as long as your arm, so that it was not at all strange that the layers were jubi-lant when Vestment got the race.

Vestment, by the way, ran a wonderful race under the circumstances. She is a three-year-old and had never started before.
According to the scale, she gave twenty 8 3 2 According to the scale, she gave with a pounds to everything in the race. Veitch a 9 6 handled her with extreme care and skill, and after the race a brilliant future was predicted for her. She was entered to be sold for $3,000.

Snuff was a tip in the steeplechase, being backed from 100 to 1 down to fifteens. But he ran like a truck horse. Can it be that certain sheet writers have been educated to play a slick game in ma-nipulating the prices quoted to them by their employers? A bettor went up to a well known bookmaker, who had 6 to 1 straight and 2 to 1 a place against Pulsus on his slate and bet him $10 each way.

"Sixty to ten and twenty to ten, Pulsus," said the layer to the sheet writer, as he grabbed the money. When the better went around to each his place bet he was informed that he had wagered his money at 8 to 5 a place instead of 2 to 1 and $16 to $10 was recorded on the sheet, in addition to $40 to $10 straight. The better put up a kick, but it was to no purpose. The sheet told the story, and that settled it. The announcement of weights for the Oriental Handicap, to be run next Saturday, caused much comment after the races yester day. Hermis, who will not start, has 133, Caughnawaga gets 127, with 126 for First Mason. The handicapper has allotted 123 pounds to the great Beldame, but it is understood that she will not be sent to the post. Stalwart, the best three-year-old colt, gets in with 120, while Africander and McChesney each take up 118. The Picket has 117, with 114 for both Gunfire and Dainty, and so on Midship-man was backed down from 50 to 1, but the stable had no hand in it. Charley Fox cleaned up with Seymour. After the fifth race Sydney Paget sold Juvenaga to A. J. Goldsborough, price not by the starter. The Lewisohn-Gideon forces lost heavily on Lincroft in the fifth event. Trapper, who was beaten a nose, was sold by the Paget stable last Saturday to W. H. Snyder, the trotting horseman. At the sale Trainer Joyner made the statement that Trapper worked faster than any two-year-old in his care, and those who heard the remark took it as a good tip. Trapper was generously played yesterday as a result. Fred Calhoun's Consuelo II. was again a disappointment.

Gould's Niagara Leaves Vanderbilt's Tarantula Over a Mile Astern.

Howard Jould's steam yacht Niagara IV. defeated W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr.'s, turbine yacht Tarantula in a race over a course thirtynine nautical miles long on the Sound yes-terday. The Niagara won by 3 minutes 50 seconds, official time. The yachts had a one gun start—that is, they were timed from the signal. Both were late getting across the line. Taking their actual time of starting the Niagara won by 3 minutes 54 seconds. She made the thirty-nine nautical miles in 1 hour 49 minutes 18 seconds from the official start, and her actual time over the course was 1 hour 48 minutes 18 seconds. Taking ner actual time, she averaged 21.58 knots, or 24.817 statute miles an hour. tula's actual time was 1 hour 52 minutes 12 seconds. Her average speed was 20.96 knots, or 24.104 statute miles an hour. In actual distance the Niagara IV. won by a little more than a mile and a third.

The yachts started from a line off Stepping Stones Light, and the course was to the buoy off Eaton's Neek and back. The tide was running to the west, so that they had a head tide going out and a fair tide coming back. This tide made considerable differ-ence in the speed of the two yachts. Going winner, must take up 130 pounds, with 122 out the Niagara made the twenty miles in for Glorifler and 120 for St. Bellane. race was Frank Bowne Jones and E. Lentilhon. They were on board Rear Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt's steamer Mirage and made the line anchoring to the north of Stepping Stones Light shortly before 9 o'clock. The two racers were then circling about, getting up steam. The Niagara IV. had on board Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gould and Dr. R. M. Taft. Capt. George Fulford was at the wheel. On the Tarantula were W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., W. S. Hoyt, A. de Navarro and George A. Cormack. Capt. George Cooley was at the wheel. The Tarantula was burning hand picked soft coal, while the Niagara burned hard coal. She was in the finest possible trim.

At 9 o'clt'k the preparatory signal was made, and ten minutes later the signal announced the start. Both yachts were some distance from the line at that time, with the Tarantula slightly in the lead. She crossed nearest to the Long Island shore at 9:11:05, and the Niagara was four seconds behind, being timed at 9:11:09. The Tarantula at first seemed to draw away from the Niagara, but in passing between Execution Rock and Sands Point she found shoal water, which hurther chances considerably, and the Niagara began to draw up on her rival. The Niagara began to draw up on her rival. The Niagara was running very smoothly through the water and made little fuss, while the Tarantula seemed to have a drag and made considerable disturbance aft.

At 9:33:50, when off Matinnecock Point, the Niagara had taken the lead by about half a length, and from that time on she gradually dropped the Tarantula at 10:09:13. On the first twenty miles of the course, the Niagara had made the Head at 16:09:13. On the first twenty miles was made in 53 minutes 57 seconds. The finishing line was an uneventful one. The Niagara increased her lead all the way. She finished at 10:59:27, and the last twenty miles was made in 53 minutes 57 seconds. On this leg she beat the Tarantula 1 minute 5 seconds. Tarantula, W. K. Vanderbilt said he had no excuses to offer. From one who was on board it was learned, however, that the Tarantula did not do her best. Her turbines were not working as well as they should have done and the number of revolutions was far below what can be made.

The Tarantula is 160 feet long, has three Parsons turbines working on three shafts. The Niagara has two triple expansion engines that work on two shafts. She is 110 feet long. Shad" Link Falls to Throw Jaggers Twice in Bandicap Match.

"Shad" Link, a Baltimore wrestler, met Arthur Jaggers. a Brooklyn knight of the mat, in a handicap match, catch-as-catch-can style, before an enthusiastic gathering of sports at the National Athletic Club. Brooklyn, on Tuesday night. This was Shad's first appearance in New York as a wrestler. He picked out a rather wiry and clever opponent for his metropolitan debut.

Jaggers is a youth with bulging muscles, strong, vigorous and up to all the ruses of the game. Link contracted to throw the local man twice in one hour. Against such a rival as Jaggers this task was considered impossible, but the Baltimore man, after a severe tussle, succeeded in pinning Jaggers's shoulders to the mat. Link had to use a hammer lock and exercise all of his strength and skill to accomplish the trick though.

The time of the fall was 24 minutes and 20 seconds. After a rest of fifteen minutes the struggle was resumed. Jaggers was not the struggle was resumed. Jaggers was not thrown again and was declared the winner. CHICAGO (N. L.), 7: NEW YORE (N. L.), 2.
There was very little steam or hustle in New York's playing yesterday, and the Chicagos easily won a tame game from a team that ordinarily could play rings around them. But with a pennant cinched and "no second." ginger wanes as the season wanes. The New Yorks fielded indifferently and could not hit the pitching of Briggs. They scarcely had energy enough to bat the ball beyond the infield, and the Chicago batters could have taken naps and not missed anything. The Cubs got to Wiltse readily enough, and among other things their batting led up to three double plays by the New Yorks, which brightened up the play a bit.

New York's only two runs were made in the third inning on a base on balls to Dunn, Warner's single, Wiltse's sacrifice and Donin's two bagger. Among the Chicago hits were two home runs, one a whack into the right field seats by Briggs and the other a mighty smash under the right field ropes by Tinker. Briggs's lick came in the seventh inning and was the prelude to two more runs in the same inning, which settled the outcome. The SCOTE: CHICAGO.

Good, clean hitting was done yesterday in the game between the Brooklyns and Cardinals, and it was equally apportioned between the two teams. But the St. Louis men had two advantages which enabled them to make a good deal more of their hits and beat the Brooklyns. In one inning the Brooklyns sprinkled two errors in with a hit and two outs, and this gave St. Louis two runs. In the succeeding inning one bunt, one common single and two thee baggers gave the Missourians three more runs. The score:

McCoy Wins on Points.

Kid McCoy is recovering the form he displayed during the Horton law days in this State, judging from his victory over Jack Sullivan in a twenty-round bout in Los Angeles Tuesday night. The mill, which went the limit, was the most interesting battle decided on the Pacific Coast in years. It was a fight full of clean punching on the part of McCoy, who timed his blows and depart of accoy, who timed his blows and de-livered them in effective fashion. Sullivan showed good recuperative powers and got home a few heavy blows, mostly swings, but they landed too high to do any damage. but they landed too high to do any damage. In the thirteenth round he shifted home a stomach blow with the left that, had it been true to the mark, would have won him the large end of the purse then and there. In the third round a left hook broke Sullivan's nose. Many of the spectators questioned the decision, but it was plain that McCoy had scored the most points. When the mill was over Tim McGrath, for Sullivan, offered to arrange a return bout. He says he will post a forfeit this week with Harry Corbett to show that he is in earnest. The receipts amounted to over $12,000.
